LOCAL BUSINESSES HIT

Just when this paper was reporting a drop in crime in the Sedgefield village last edition, a new wave of break-ins began, this time in the central business district.

According to Community Orientated Policing (COP), at least six business premises have been hit in the last two weeks, one of them twice. Those suffering from the break-ins were Dolphin Stationers, Khan’s Mini-Mark (in the same block as Dolphin) German Lane, African Affair, the Eden Ambulance Building (currently being used as a storage unit for Rebuild Eden) and the Rebuild Eden Centre (old African Affair Building).

It seems fairly clear that it is the same perpetrator(s) responsible for this new bout of criminal activity, as in each incident. Using either a rock or brick, and on occasion a thick wooden fence pole, the perpetrator(s) basically smashed a hole in the glass door or window, then reached in and grabbed whatever they could. Dolphin stationers even had their till removed, whilst the owners of African Affair were unfortunate enough to be hit twice in 10 days.

COP has advised shop owners to keep any items of value away from the windows at night so that they do not make tempting targets. Alternatively such items should be covered by working passive infrared motion detectors. “Also if you have CCTV cameras, please ensure that at least one camera is monitoring your shop front and entrance or any other vulnerable areas of your business,” says COP’s Mike Hofhuis.

COP is working closely with SAPS to ensure the arrest of these perpetrators and Hofhuis believes it is only a matter of time before they are caught. Furthermore, patrols by SAPS, the Neighbourhood Watch, COP and ADT have been increased at night in the CBD area.

Sedgefield businesses are once again called to join the Business Watch group to assist in keeping the CBD safe, day and night. Group Coordinator Michael Simon explains: “It’s a way to keep in contact with one another through a closed WhatsApp chat group. This means we can keep each other aware of suspicious activity, report crime-related incidents and hopefully prevent crime from spreading.” Membership forms are available via email sedgefieldnw@gmail.com or at the Sedgefield Tourism Office.

Please always report crime to the police (10111 or 044 343 1321) and to COP on 074 506 7242. The more information gathered, the more effective the community crime fighting efforts will be.

With this edition of The EDGE being published on National Women’s Day we feel it is only right to wish all of our lovely local ladies (and any visitors who may have chosen to celebrate here) a wonderful day, month and year ahead, with much love from The EDGE Team, (85% female). See the article on what Women’s Day is all about on page 2.

The brother of a man whose decomposing body was found lying in a ditch on the side of the road last month is appealing for information on how his thirty one year old sibling was killed, this after his enquiries with the police have brought no answers to the desperate family.

Gotso Mokthabane says that his brother Thabiso (pictured on the right) had been missing for two months before his body was found on 3 July, lying 10 metres off the N2, by truck driver Donald Stroebel.

Stroebel says that it was just before 11am when, finding the Engen Petrol Station too full for him to park his truck and use the toilet, he had stopped just short of the Swartvlei Bridge to answer the call of nature.

“As I was walking down the slope I saw something. At first I thought it was a buck or something, but when I got closer I realised what it was and rushed to call the police,” he told us.

After waiting half an hour for SAPS to arrive, he saw a policeman driving past on the way to George. He flagged the vehicle down and told the officer driving what he had found - the SAPS member kindly offered to wait on the scene so Stroebel could carry on with his journey.

Later that morning SAPS members were able to identify the body, and Gotso was called to the scene to confirm it was his brother.

The coroner has listed the cause of death as ‘Under Investigation’ on the death certificate, and SAPS spokesman Sergeant Chris Spies says that no foul play is suspected in the case.

But Gotso says that he and his family are determined to find out how his brother could have met such an untimely death. Having seen the body, he believes Thabiso had been badly beaten up, and thinks that foul play did indeed occur.

He explained that Thabiso was due to be a witness in a court case, and that this had really scared him, hence he was in the habit of disappearing for days at a time. When he hadn’t returned for so long the family believed he had gone into hiding.

Gotso is calling for anyone with any information at all about his brother’s case to take it to the police - the case number is 48/07/2017.

Though it is two months since the fires destroyed so many homes and possessions in Greater Knysna and surrounding areas, the Rebuild Eden teams aren’t losing any momentum, and still need assistance from the public in goods, funds and physical help.

Rebuild Eden (Sedgefield) is operating from the old African Affair building and providing assistance to 150 families registered on their support list. As most of the fire-affected families are busy trying to put their lives back together, their needs will be changing with time. Whilst at first it was shelter, food and clothing – now it is more permanent goods needed to replace those lost in the fire. Things that some of us take for granted such as electrical appliances, furniture, tools and toys. Even sporting equipment will be sorely missed by someone trying to get back to the life they lived before the fires.

Readers are asked to keep this in mind – especially if they have unused items at the back of the garage that could make a huge difference in getting a life back to normal.

The small team is asking for locals to register as volunteers. This does not mean they will be kept busy full time – just that their names and numbers will be added to the volunteer broadcast group so that, if available, they can pop round to help when a call is put out. To register please either pop in at the centre or send a message to 060 914 6176 or 061 031 4102.

The Beekman Group (represented by Mike Hofhuis) donated a selection of irons, kettles, gas stoves and pet food to the grateful Rebuild Eden (Sedgefield) Team.
The Municipality is not forthcoming and our need is NOW. We need either a donation of the actual burglar bars or a donation of the funds to buy the burglar bars. Please contact Jim Mitchell 083 379 3737 if you are in any way able to assist.

The closing time for submission of bids is 12:00 on Wednesday, 06 September 2017.

On the 20th August 2017 Sedgefield will be honouring a special woman of Sedgefield for this year’s International Woman’s day celebration.

The event will take place at the NG Kerk Church from 2pm onwards and all of Sedgefield’s women are invited to come.

Guest speakers will be Knysna Executive Mayor Eleanore Bouw Spies along with Dr Ado du Toit, and Sedgefield’s very own talented singer Shaza will entertain those attending with a few songs.

In celebrating Sedgefield’s hardworking ladies, a “Sedgefield Woman Overachiever Award” will be presented to honour those who go far beyond the call of duty. In the weeks leading up to the event, local ladies are asked to visit the Tourism office (on the N2 service road, near ABSA) to nominate any woman they feel is deserving of this title.

Nominations close Saturday 19th August. For more information please contact the Tourism Office on 044 3432007 #BEBOLD4CHANGE

On the 21 June 2017, The Joy Group of St Francis United Church once again excelled in providing a 3 course meal plus tea, cake and gifts for 80 members of the Masithandane’s Forget-Me-Not Group (for over 60s).

Entertainment in the form of the Forget-Me-Not Folies was presented by the Masithandane Caregiving Staff and included song, drama, hilarious skits and a very unique, never to be forgotten, performance of the Can-Can by Tertta Rothman, Petricia Pietere, Jackie Weaver and Barbara Pilli.

Our heartfelt thanks to Jenny Parker and her amazing team for the wonderful work they do in making this vision so very special. It is something that our members look forward to with great anticipation every year.

Congratulations Martin & Avril 50 years!

Conratulations to Martin and Avril Louw who recently celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in Mossel Bay on 5th August 2017. They were married in the Baptist Church in Observatory Cape Town. Martin recalls it was raining like mad on a corrugated iron roof and nothing of the service could be heard.

They later celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary in Sedgefield and loved it so much that they decided to settle here. They have lived in Sedgefield for 18 years. They have two sons Michael and Anthony and a grandson Benjamin.

Facts count in crime fighting

Accurate and detailed descriptions of criminals can give a long way towards securing their arrest.

“Security companies and law enforcement agencies need to have an accurate description of the suspect to assist them in tracking down the perpetrator,” says Peter Kruger, district manager (Coastal Outlying Branches) for Fidelity ADT.

The most important things to remember, says Kruger, are the following:

- If you become the victim of a crime, don’t make direct eye contact with the perpetrator
- Make mental notes of what the person was wearing, and be as precise as possible. This includes logos, colours, and any other distinguishing marks;
- Was there anything striking about the way the person spoke? Did he/she speak with a lisp, or with an accent?;
- Do you recall any distinguishing facial features, tattoos or scars?
- If there was a getaway car involved: what make / model / colour was it? Did you see the number plates or any other distinguishing features such as mag-wheels or scratch marks?
- Once you have all this information you are then in a much better position to write a police report which is usually completed by either the victim or a witness.

The following points are important when writing your report and can do much to assist the police in apprehending the suspects:

- Include as much detail as possible. You will need to include as much of the detail you observed above in the report so as to make it credible and helpful to police officers during their investigation. Kruger says it is important to take your time to make a mental list of all the points so no detail is left out.
- Make notes as soon as possible. If you are a witness to a crime, you will need to make notes about what you saw. Do this as soon as possible after the crime happened so that you won’t forget or mix up any important details. Studies have revealed that our memories of events change with time and can become distorted if not written down immediately.
- Remember events in sequence: Take your time to recall the sequence of events during a crime as these can greatly assist the investigation.
- Get a police report form: If you are a crime victim or witness, chances are you are not used to writing police reports, and so you may not have an idea of how to write one. In this case, visit the nearest police department or use the internet to find out how to fill in and file a police report. After implementing the tips above, you can start writing your report. Alternatively fill out the report given to you at your police station in a logical and legible format.

“Remember you need to start your report by describing the crime scene. Use concrete and descriptive words that will help the police have a clear picture of what you are describing and include all details such as the address of the crime scene, evidences of the crime, and the date and time of the crime. Then give a chronological narrative of what happened and explain everything you witnessed at the crime scene.”

“Becoming a victim of crime or even witnessing a crime is understandably a scary and traumatic experience, and your first reaction is not always to be calm and observant. It is important to bear in mind the above points can greatly assist law enforcement agencies in identifying the suspect and hopefully quickly putting them behind bars,” concludes Kruger.

MASITHANDANE’S 70th Anniversary Celebration

On the 21 June 2017, The Joy Group of St Francis United Church once again excelled in providing a 3 course meal plus tea, cake and gifts for 80 members of the Masithandane’s Forget-Me-Not Group (for over 60s).

Discussions kicked off with the relevance of the socio-economic impact of Garden Route National Park in the region. Paddy Gordon, Park Manager of the GRNP illustrated the multiple roles played by rangers to ensure National Parks remain havens for the conservation of biodiversity and allow visitors the opportunity to experience this through various tourism offerings.

Some 34 events go through the Garden Route National Park every year, more than 200,000 visitors a year but our role remains that of ensuring nature for current and future generations and creating experiences for visitors in nature. These include multiple hiking trails, cycling, forest excursions, zip lining, segways, scavenger hunts and others. Gordon also commented the training and mentorship sessions held with both the Game Rangers Association of Africa and Rangers in the Garden Route.

Trail running has become a destination for the Parks. This year over 10,000 people have already run through the foliage from Wilderness to Tsitsikamma, this includes events such as the Knysna Forest Marathon during the Knysna Oyster Festival and others. Sporting activities happen on zoned-off land when activities are compatible with the broader conservation objective. Marine ecologist’s perspective, Kyle Smith, focused on trail runners as vectors of seed dispersing. This goes for game ranger vehicles and every mechanism of transport in and out of Parks.

Other discussions on the day were about Frabos, forest and fire management which was led by the Southern Cape Fire Protection Association.

Andrew Campbell, CEO of the Game Rangers Association of Africa “mentorship and leadership training is important for rangers hence a dedicated ranger program was lined up for Rangers in today’s program.” Campbell also says the growing number of rangers who have died this year in the line of duty is a concern. Some 55 Rangers have died in the line of duty this year, an increase from last year’s 35 reported cases.

The Game Rangers Association members have come from across the African continent for an AGM held in Wilderness Fjord & Flaw Rest Camp and opened up two of its days to meet with SANParks. The organisation’s focus is on providing the necessary skills for rangers across Africa.

EXCITEMENT BUILDING FOR WOODFIELDS First MUSIC ON THE MAP EXPERIENCE

Excitement is in the air ahead of the imminent arrival of spring; not because of blooming buds and colourful landscapes, but because of the inaugural Woodfields Music on the Map Experience on Saturday, 2 September.

Food stalls, craft beer, and a festive family atmosphere including a 600 square metre tent (so the weather can’t spoil our fun) are all at the ready to welcome Garden Routers to spring, to the festival and to the awesome local talent ready to set the Southern Cape alight with their music.

Woodfields, the oldest farm in George and the home of the well-known Map of Africa outside Wilderness, is going all out to host a music experience rivalling the best with a building atmosphere, fabulous food and beer stalls. A Glastonbury-light if you wish. Organizers Thousand Sensations and interface by gogo, well-known for organizing the fantastic craft beer festival in Wilderness every year, together with Bruce Jackson of Woodfields Farm, are on pins and needles in anticipation. They are already putting the finishing touches on the amazing permanent stage built especially for the experience.

The idea of the music experience is to provide a performing platform for local and national bands. With the performance roster filling up fast, the restaurants hosting the food stalls are already in prep mode to have everything done and delicious come spring. Headlining this year is well-known Capetonian act BrotherBrother already confirmed. Celebrated and well-loved performer Mel Botes has also confirmed his place on the roster for the evening’s entertainment. Thousand Sensations and interface by gogo will make the experience a musical one to remember.

For more information, stay tuned to Thousand Sensations’ broadcasting partner Algoa FM or contact Alewijn Dippenaar on 082 457 5675 or via thousandssensations.co.za.

The Woodfields Music on the Map experience will be held on Saturday, 2 September from 14h00 – 21h00. Ample secure parking is available at a steal for only R55 per person, R70 for students, and entrance is free for kids under 12.

Bring your friends, bring your family, enjoy the music, and come and share a spectacular Garden Route spring day filled with good grub, great beer and amazing music, proving local is not only lekker, but legendary!

For more information, visit the official website or contact Alewijn Dippenaar at dyndev@mweb.co.za, 082 457 5675 for special events or contact Thousand Sensations’ broadcasting partner Algoa FM or contact Alewijn Dippenaar on 082 457 5675 or via thousandssensations.co.za.

Many of the residents and businesses of Sedgefield pulled together to ensure that those who were directly affected were cared for and provided with food and other assistance.

This initiative is still continuing.

The Mayor of Sedgefield, Eleanor Howson, hosted a special meeting of residents at the Sedgefield Bowling Club explaining some of the challenges that was caused and what is being done to rebuild the Greater Knysna infrastructure. She further mentioned that more than 2600 jobs were lost and it is hoped that the local population will be utilised in this project. A grant of R500,000 has been allocated to the rebuilding of Knysna homes and other houses, including the major banks have made funds available. The Mayor referred that steps will be utilised specifically for this project and all spend will need to be approved and monitored.

- Safety and Security
  SANRAL has approved and has now commenced building a footpath along the N2 from Scarab to Montague Mews. This will be for the use of pedestrians and cyclists and will much safer than being on the N2.

- Water Forum
  The Cape Western govern ment is in the process of doing research on sea-levels in high risk coastal and estuaries, the SRA&V will keep abreast of developments and report back in due time.

- Initiatives
  Considerations being given to the building of a paved walkway from the slipway in Kingfisher to the river mouth. Feasibility will be able to be obtained from the Extended Public Works Fund which has provided local labour is used in the construction thereof.

  Additional funding, if necessary, could be obtained from local businesses that would have a plaque placed on the walkway identifying the donors. SRA&V will discuss with the local councillor to obtain more information which will be advised in our next communication.

As usual, we feature some background on one of our well known committee members this week our beloved John McGregor (Vice Chair).

John was born right here in our backyard (George) Feb 1935, he matriculated from the Outeniqua High School in 1953. Entered SA Army 1954 and after 4 very happy years, joined the British Army in 1958, where he was commissioned and served in many parts of the world and many adventures all over the world he returned to the SA Army. He then joined Anglo American Corp and was seconded to SCA as group security consultant. He retired in 1994.

A few days ago our house was subject to burglaries on two successive nights, and it was quite a shock to break the padlock off the door. They took a bicycle and a number of power tools. They left over the wall into the garden of the unoccupied house next door. As they left, they dropped a drill in the next door garden, which fortunately Affairs (Vice Chair) Lida van As

A final thought: our Community Police Forum is another body trying very hard to trigger change. They need our support and details of any incidents that befell us.

Our Village person this week is a familiar face around the Municipal offices and you may be mistaken for thinking that you’ve seen him somewhere before, in a more relaxed and sociable setting as “hospitality” has been a major part of his working life.

Alfonso De Kock is the man currently responsible for the smooth operation of the Municipal Community Centres in Grassy Park and Sedgefield.

Alfonso’s working life was turned upside down when he had to leave work in 1985 after the Kuyasa fires caused Sedgefield Town Hall to burn down. After 24/7 help and relief centre. He took it all in his stride and was on hand most of the time, day and night assisting with operations, always with his lovely smile! It is my pleasure to introduce you to this great human treasure … Mt Alfonso De Kock

Who is your hero or heroine?

With all due respect, late President Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela, I don’t think there has been anyone in their entire life that had the guts to do and achieve what he did.

If I were a cartoon character I think I would be… Jerry from Tom and Jerry. Because… He can always outsmart his enemy.

Maximum is an important part of your life?

Yes, if music is the food of love – play on! It doesn’t matter if it’s rock, pop, jazz or house as long as it is good music.

What makes you laugh?

Lots of things, anything that makes me laugh.

Your favourite school subject?

English and Science. If I had to choose, I would choose English.

What subject at school?

English and Science. If I had to choose, I would choose English.

The one I really loved was Science.

All Things Wood

Four years since the first Working with Wood Show hosted in Knysna during 2014, the strong feeling and urge to reawaken the skill of carpentry within, not only South Africa but especially the Garden Route resonated with the second George Working with Wood Show.

“We are thrilled to announce that we will once again host a Working with Wood Show in association with the Association of Woodturners of South Africa (AWSA), the School of Natural Resource Management at the Nelson Mandela University (NMMU) and the George Woodworking Association from noon on 22 September until 18:00 on 25 September,” said Regional Sales Manager, Vernon Sales (Sponsors), Daniel Melin.

The beautiful NMMU George Campus will once again serve as the hub of the festivities where displays, lectures, tool and project demonstrations, food stalls and entertainment for both adults and children. Early festival participants will receive a Working with Wood Show goody bag filled with wood related surprises.

“We are hoping that carpentry will follow the same path that the traditional Khoi and San practices of plant use in the botanically rich Cape region of South Africa did. The use of these plants are purely documented and are rapidly diminishing because of the fruits of our indigenous knowledge, and the fact that modern medicine has almost completely replaced the traditional health care system.

“Now that carpentry is no longer offered as a subject at school, our industry fears that in future our communities will speak of a lost skill. Because of this, we feel it is of vital importance to reawaken the interest of carpentry amongst the youth,” said Melin.

Several wood workers will join in the celebration of wood and timber and display their special goods throughout the show. Organisers remain mindful to include a variety of products, as long as they include wood.

AWSA joins the Working with Wood Show for their annual symposium that once again features renowned Southern African woodturners who will share their skills and insights. “This year our Symposium, themed Recovering From Failure will also be hosting overseas demonstrators, Al Strat, who will join our local turners in showing participants their skill in Recovering from Failure,” said Donald Marcus, AWSA Symposium coordinator.

The symposium runs concurrently with the Working with Wood Show, allowing the participants free access to the Working with Wood Show and trade exhibition of machinery, tools, supplies and turning stock, as well as an exhibition of beautifully turned artwork.

The Working with Wood Show and Woodturners Symposium closes off a busy September, recognised as Arbor month.

This year the George Woodworkers association are joining the Show, allowing them to demonstrate their unique turning, carpentry and carving skills throughout the 4-day show.

Should wood crafters and merchants wish to exhibit their skills and goods during this show they may contact Show Coordinator, Fran Kirsten on frukt@out there.co.za.

“Garden Route residents will be well advised to diurate the dates (22-25 September) as not to miss out on the opportunity to witness the Garden Route timber industry coming alive,” concluded Melin.

Brighten Up Your Home and Garden with Winter and Spring - Flowering Bulbs

I have often been told “Clivias are such lovely bulbs but they only flower once a year”. Now strictly speaking Clivias are not actually bulbs, but have underground rhizomes. These rhizomes and thick roots store water in the same way that bulbs do. Getting back to that somewhat misplaced statement that Clivias only flower once a year. If you attended the Winter Clivia Show at the Garden Route Botanical Gardens you would have seen many Clivias in flower this time of the year. We normally think of Clivias as Spring/Summer flowering plants which many are. But the Interspecific varieties are bred to flower at other times of the year as well and are crosses between the normal open - flowered Clivia miniata and the tubular pendant - flowered species such as Clivia nobilis and Clivia gardenii. Make sure you grow Clivia in a semi-shaded spot in your garden.

Flowering in late winter to early spring, Veltheimias add colour and interest to the border. The pink form is usually seen but the yellow variety “Lemon Plant” is not as common. Veltheimias need sunny or dappled shade. Never give them too much shade as they will not flower. These plants are native to the coastal regions from the Southern Cape to North of Eastern Cape. Lachenalias are a large family of plants endemic to Southern Africa. There are thousands of species comprising this genus. In the last ten years hybrids have been developed principally from the popular species L. aloides. These bulbs can be used in window boxes or as container subjects. It's always intriguing me that they flower so early in mid winter - winter and bring colour when it is needed the most. They grow well in full sun in a well-drained soil mix. Do not over-water in their growing period but only water when the soil is dry. The plants die back in summer after the bulbs have rapidly multiplied so they will need lifting and dividing up. Store them in a cool dark place and remember to prepare your containers for planting them again in late Summer-early Autumn.

You must sound so that you have accumulated more bulbs than you need so why not pass some on to your friends?

Many people believe that orchids are difficult to grow. That is certainly not the case with the current growing ground orchid Bletilla striata. This bulb hails from China where it is used medicinally in the treatment of pulmonary diseases such as tuberculosis. It is becoming rare in nature due to over-collecting and habitat destruction. Bletilla striata blooms in late winter to spring and can be grown as a container plant or planted in the ground in a semi-shaded position. Remember to add liberal amounts of compost to the soil.

Velnthemia breacteata - They need morning sun or dappled shade

Lachenalia Hybrids

Bletilla striata

There are various colour forms, pink being the most common. It is more rarely seen in shades of white or apricot. The plants die back in winter when they should be kept on the dry side. Just walking through the garden this time of the year is a blessing. New buds are beginning to form and flowers are popping out everywhere. Spring is around the corner and we have noticed how active the Sunbirds and Weaver are. I have even spotted butterflies flitting around the Pelargonium flowers. As I am writing this I can hear the sound of rain on the roof - a wonderful sound that brings promise and hope for the future.

Huge Thanks to Trail Run

The Rebuild Eden Sedgefield crew, dedicated to the support of those affected by the recent fires, was delighted to receive a cheque for R30,000 from the Featherbed Trail Run Bayport Phoenix Edition. This was half of the amazing R60,000 raised by this event, with the remaining R30,000 going to Knysna Basin Project.

The Featherbed Trail Run is the official Trail Run of the Pick n Pay Knysna Oyster Festival and this year, on the eve of its tenth birthday, it suddenly looked as if this bucket list event was not to be due to extensive fire damage along the regular route. It was the timely intervention of Bayport Financial Services, which enabled Magnetic South to recreate the entire course and yet still preserve its uniquely Knysna flavour and essential bond to the Featherbed Company.

Race Director Mark Collins said he was thrilled to be able to make a contribution on behalf of participating trail runners and the event sponsors, adding that it was appropriate that these resources would be used directly in the area traversed by the event.

Polio Awareness Week 6-12 August

Polio
Description
Polio is a highly infectious disease caused by a virus that invades the nervous system.
Causes
How it is spread
Polio is most often spread through contact with the stool of an infected person. This can happen in one of many ways:
• eating food or drinking liquids that are contaminated with the polio virus.
• touching surfaces or objects contaminated with the polio virus and then placing the contaminated hand in your mouth.
• sharing food or eating utensils with someone infected with the polio virus.
Less commonly, it can be spread through respiratory droplets or saliva.
Signs & Symptoms
About 95% of people infected with polio will have no symptoms. Some will have minor symptoms such as fever, fatigue, nausea, headache, flu-like symptoms, stiffness in the neck and back and pain in the limbs. Fewer than 1% of polio cases result in permanent paralysis of the limbs.
Prevention
A polio vaccine is given to all children as part of the childhood vaccination schedule.
Treatment
Because there is no cure for polio, treatment usually consists of treating the symptoms until the patient recovers. It can include fluids, medications and rest.

Medical Male Circumcision

We would like to remind the public of our Medical Male Circumcision (MMC) outreach services within the district.
MMC is the most hygienic, safest way to be circumcised, and the only way to ensure that you get the full sexual and health benefits. It also improves hygiene and reduces the risk of developing penile cancer and the risk of passing the virus that causes cervical cancer to their female partners.

MMC is the complete removal of the foreskin. The procedure requires only local anaesthetic and takes about 20 minutes. Patients can leave the facility and go home after the procedure. The wound takes about 6 weeks to heal. Male Circumcision is not a guarantee that you will not get HIV. Men still need to use a condom each time they have sex, even if they have been circumcised.

Patients are encouraged to contact their local clinic to make an appointment.

Kamaland sub-district: Every Wednesday at Allan Blyth Hospital
Mesedal Bay Hospital: Every Wednesday
Outshoorn sub-district: Every Thursday afternoon from 14:00 onwards.
Kaysna sub-district: Every second Friday of the month at Kaysna Hospital.

Builders and Supersport have done it again – the 8th sports field to be unveiled as part of the ongoing initiative to provide underprivileged schools with multi-purpose facilities that allow students to be more active outdoors!

The new sports field was unveiled at the Fraaisig Primary School, based in Knysna on the 4th August 2017 and is the second school to receive the multi-purpose facilities in 2017. The objective of the initiative is to encourage learners to be more active in physical education and sport, which could nurture future soccer legends.

The sports field won’t only benefit Fraaisig Primary School, it brings schools and communities together through the hosting of soccer tournaments.

Ladies Golf

Friday 20th July

Where did the month go? It was again time for our monthly Medal and Putt and Individual Stableford competition. It comes around so quickly and ladies arrived to take up the challenge. The following Birdies were shot: Helen Pahl on the 2nd, 3rd, 9th and 16th, Elize MacKenzie Blom on the 9th, Charlene Blaeker on the 12th, Sarah Tighe on the 8, Vonna Veldmann on the 17th, Collene St Clair on the 9th, Wendy Mack on the 9th and 15th and Almarie Mead on the 9th and 10th.

“This tournament was introduced as part of the unveiling to allow the schools from in and around the community an opportunity to enjoy the new facilities as well as create an opportunity for the schools to engage with each other, said Andre Steyn, Builders Marketing and Innovations Director.

In addition, schools participating in the tournament will receive physical education training from Active Education coaches who visit each school on a weekly basis introducing both boys and girls to the wonderful world of sports. Active Education holds a partnership agreement with the Department of Basic Education, which allows them access to the schools and the local district office.

Nearest the pin this week was Helen Pahl. The Individual Stableford Trophy was won by Emily Bothma on 33 points. The Bronze Division Trophy was by Sarah Tighe on a gross of 70. Silver Trophy on a gross of 76 by Wendy Mack and the Gold Trophy on a gross of 62 by Helen Pahl.

Least Putts for the day was shared draw by Helen Pahl, Emily Bothma and Sarah Tighe on 28 putts. Stableford Trophy was won by Helen Pahl. The Individual Stableford Trophy was also won by Helen Pahl.

The day was rounded off with a soup and homemade bread to celebrate the Captains birthday.

The day was played with the threat of heavy showers on the horizon, but the sun came around so quickly. 14 Stableford trophies were played for.

Friday 4th August 2017

The weather looked very threatening but 12 Ladies decided they would brave the weather and although it was very cold the weather was kind to us. A most enjoyable game of Bongo... Bongo... Bongo... was played by all. A format with a difference and it certainly added a different aspect to our game. It is a game of 3 points per hole.

One point goes to the first lady on the green, one point to the lady closest to the pin, once everyone was on the green and one point to the first one in the hole.

Great fun was had and lots of laughter could be heard. Well done ladies for being willing to try something new. The day was won by Linda Evans with 26 points and it must be mentioned that she also scored a net score of 50. Excellent play, congratulations Linda. Birdies for the day were: Marie Joubert on the 18th and 14th, Linda Evans on the 3rd and 7th, Sarah Tighe on the 2nd, Alice Vorster on the 3rd, Monique McLeod on the 3rd and Almarie Mead on the 9th and the 12th. Ronnie Mauyard was nearest the pin. Lovely playing with you all ladies. Well done to all.

Next week we play an old favourite of Combined Stableford.

The Knockout Motor Show sponsored by Sanlam Private Wealth and held at the end of April 2017 was a phenomenal success. Not only was there a high standard of awesome cars on display with impeccable organisation, but a record crowd of more than 6000 people attended, resulting in record takings.

We are delighted to advise that after accounting for the motor show expenses we were able to donate R100,000 to charity. The charities that benefited from this generous donation are Knysna and Sedgefield Hospice, Knysna Animal Welfare, E-pap (feeding scheme for underprivileged children), FAMSA (NPO specialising in relationship counselling), Epilepsy, BADISA (Child Protection organisation), Change for Change (NPO looking after destitute families) and the Sea Cadets.

This donation has come at an opportune time when Knysna has been devastated by the raging fires at the beginning of June and the nominated charities have been under severe pressure to cope with the demands of the disaster.

This donation from the Knysna Motor show has only been made possible through the support of our sponsors, all the participants who displayed their cars, the motor trade, the public that came from across SA and the dedication of members from the Garden Route Motor Club. We salute all of them with a big thanks.

We look forward to building on this success at next year’s Knysna Motor Show to be held on Sunday April 29, 2018.
